

Update on Academic Year
2020-2021

All international Master programs are postponed to 2021-2022

France is currently in the middle of its fight against the outburst of the Covid-19, and many questions arise concerning acceptance of international students under safe and reliable conditions in September 2020.

To this day, uncertainties prevail about the reopening of international borders, the conditions of international air transportation, visa issuance, social life and ability to welcome our students on campus...

We think that online teaching, even for a short period, is not an option for our international students because we are convinced that our international programs are a real-life, face-to-face experience which is an integral part of our students' study project in France.

Therefore we have reached the difficult decision to postpone all our international Master programs to the 2021-2022 academic year.

Applications for the 2021-2022 academic year will open in November 2020.

For any information or question about the programs or your study project at IGR-IAE Rennes, please contact the program coordinators at: igr.international-degrees@univ-rennes1.fr.